Here are some of our School Councillors

In recent weeks, our school councillors have been elected. They are responsible for representing the pupils and giving their ideas and opinions about whole school issues.

We are looking forward to giving our ideas and listening to everyone about important issues.

We have also selected house Captains. They are responsible for representing their house and bringing them together toward team success. Pine house scored the most points last week, but it's all to play for next week!

Value of the Month- Responsibility

Year 6 Class Assembly

to tell you why I think I will be a responsible house captain.

Firstly, I will give time to hear others' ideas; this would mean everyone in my group will have a chance to give their opinion and to make a difference. If you are not a confident speaker, I will be patient and encourage so that you do not get uptight or embarrassed in front of an audience. Together we can be confident!

Secondly, if you gain a reward for the group

Here are some of our House Captain speeches. We shared them as part of our assembly all about responsibility.

...your VAR house captain. I leave you to decide if I will explain to you why I would be the right person for it.

Firstly, I will confidently speak in front and to people. I am kind and friendly, and I want to represent Eastlands Primary. I will help others as I am always ready to help so you can rely on me.

I am sensible and will take the job of house captain seriously. Being your captain, I would make sure everything would be going great for our term.

Responsibility

A responsibility is a task which is set for someone which must be completed. A responsibility could be like having a pet, eg a dog, you must: feed it; walk it; train it ect. The meaning in the context of the poem 'Responsibility' would be that there is a job of voluntary of doing something important task and in the end Nobody did it but Anybody could have done the important task. Everyone thought that somebody would, Everyone shouldn't presume that somebody would and also place the blame on others, it is wrong to do these thing.

My next reason is that I am the 'mouth and ears of my class' and once I hear something being said that I know is not to be shared I will tell everybody. I do not just share my own ideas but ones I have got from other people. One time where I specifically remember demonstrating this is when I gave someone advice that I gave before.

My final point of why you should vote for me to become the Holly House captain is that I would always try my hardest to make our house the best it can be. I would never discourage anyone, instead I would encourage them in every way I can.
